

(contents)

MARINE TECHNOLOGY January 2011

Real-World Conditions

BY GEORGE COMFORT, ANDREW KENDRICK,
DR. CLAUDE DALEY, AND PETER NOBLE

There's no substitute for field trials when it comes to evaluating the ice performance of ships

(mt)

ON THE COVER:

Each of the nations bordering the polar oceans has territorial rights and claims to the region, and each is struggling to balance development of commercial shipping with protection of the environment

PHOTO BY NORBERT WU

[FEATURES]

34

Arctic Transit

BY GÖRAN WILKMAN AND MIKKO NIINI
The Northern Sea Route and the Northwest Passage offer enormous opportunity while posing enormous challenge

40

Vessel Report: Barents Sea Icebreakers

BY TAN CHENGHUI
Specifications and particulars on Varandey and Toboy

46

Spill Response

BY PER JOHAN BRANDVIK
Advancing cleanup technology for oil spills in ice-covered waters

52

Vessel Report: Alaska Region Research Vessel

BY JAY EDGAR
Specifications and particulars on Sikuliaq

58

ICETECH

BY FRANK G. BERCHA AND ROGER PILKINGTON
The evolution of learning about the performance of ships and structures in ice

[DEPARTMENTS]

- 4 From the Editorial Board
- 5 Mailbag
- 6 Industry Events
- 7 Feature Contributors
- 8 Founders and Leaders
- 11 Policy Briefing
- 14 Marine Technology Notes
- 68 Travel
- 71 Focus on Education
- 75 Glossary
- 76 In Review
- 79 Running Your Business
- 82 Relevant Resources
- 86 Abstracts
- 88 Historical Note