

European Journal of Information Systems

Volume 20 Number 5 September 2011

Contents

EDITORIAL

- Towards a greater diversity in writing styles, argumentative strategies and genre of manuscripts 491
Frantz Rowe

OPINION PIECE

- Inter-organizational information systems adoption – a configuration analysis approach 496
Kalle Lyytinen and Jan Damsgaard

RESEARCH ARTICLES

- Decision support or support for situated choice: lessons for system design from effective manual systems 510
Reeva Lederman and Robert B. Johnston
- Managing e-Government system implementation: a resource enactment perspective 529
Calvin M.L. Chan, Ray Hackney, Shan L. Pan and Tzu-Chuan Chou
- Is traditional, open-source, or on-demand first choice? Developing an AHP-based framework for the comparison of different software models in office suites selection 542
Alexander Benlian
- Coping with rapid information technology change in different national cultures 560
Xiang Fang, John "Skip" Benamati and Albert L. Lederer
- Illusions of control and social domination strategies in knowledge mapping system use 574
Aurélie Dudezert and Dorothy E. Leidner
- Opening the black box of system usage: user adaptation to disruptive IT 589
Christophe M. Elie-Dit-Cosaque and Detmar W. Straub
- Investigating the reliability of second-order formative measurement in information systems research 608
Bongsik Shin and Gimun Kim