

contents

December 2015, Vol 49, No 562

Features

16 Tanker safety

Maersk Tankers tackles crew shortage

22 Fire and gas

With a year to go, why is there still no accredited training for the IGF Code?

26 Security and piracy

US Navy Piracy Attack Risk Surface project

34 Training and crewing

The new tier of techno savvy crew on the cover

The exacting training requirements for crew to be certified for tanker operation are taking their toll, with an estimated shortage of 16,000 seafarers. On page 16 we learn how Maersk Tankers is putting faith in its training and promotion strategy to overcome the problem

Regulars

4 Our say

Nautical Institute's accident study

5 Your say

False economy of overstretching crew

6 News

US seeks El Faro answers; Serco fined for Woolwich ferry fatality; Canadian PM pledges west coast tanker ban

12 Security news

Malaysia steps up security cover; EU steps up anti-smuggling operation; manufacturer calls for cyber rethink

14 Training news

Training berths shortage; Isle of Man goes electronic; Kings Point scorecard win; Simulation demand in Philippines

40 Security insight

Keeping the Suez Canal secure

41 Regulation insight

Europe tightens emission control rules

42 Safety briefing

How unapproved steam cleaning resulted in fire and an explosion

44 MARS

A selection of case studies from the Mariners' Alerting and Reporting Scheme

47 Products

AIS regs inspire ACR transceivers; NeptuLink offers vessels affordable 4G

50 View astern

The melancholy allure of Alang

For further in-depth coverage go to Fairplay.IHS.com

PC | TABLET | LAPTOP | PRINT

IHS Maritime Fairplay

Subscribe to the number one news service for the maritime industry today.

Contact us quoting PAOPMF

Tel: UK 0844 543 0074

ROW: +44 (0) 1604 251 491

or visit magazines.ihs.com/FP/PAOPMF

6627-0914-R