

FAMILY & CONSUMER SCIENCES

JOURNAL OF

VOL. 108 - NO. 4 - 2016

Advancing FCS Learning: Programs, Practices and Polices

FEATURE

"Bring Back Home Economics"?
Challenging Contested
Discourses on Obesity7
Mary Gale Smith

Critical Thinking Skills in Family and Consumer Sciences Education13
Melinda Swafford
Elizabeth Rafferty

Advancing Learning by Countering the Effects of Poverty18
Sally E. Arnett-Hartwick
Connor M. Walters

SCHOLARSHIP

Women's Motives for Engaging in Long-term Habitual Indoor Tanning ...23
Alexandra L. Howell
V. Ann Paulins

Heart of the FCS Body of Knowledge: Relational Ethic31
Jody L. Roubanis

STRATEGIES

Program Level Assessment: A Case Study for a University Clothing and Textile Major37
Zee-Sun Yun
Barbara J. Frazier

Professional Development Portfolio:
Perceptions of Nutrition and Dietetics
Current Students and Recent Graduates51
Gus Vouchilas
Gretchen George

A Tiered Model for Linking
Students to the Community45
Laura Landry Meyer
Jean M. Gerard
Michael R. Sturm
Deborah G. Wooldridge

contents continued on p. 4

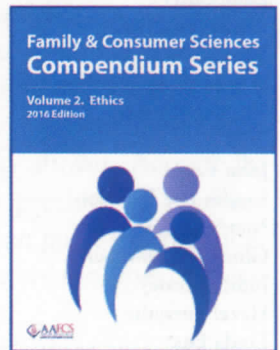

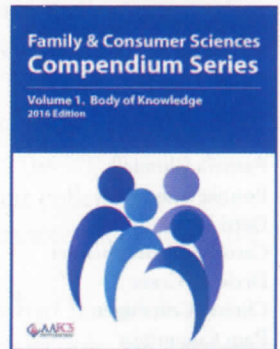

In the field of

New AAFCS E-Book Series
Just Published!

Family & Consumer Sciences Compendium Series

Ideal for:

- Higher education course materials/textbooks
- Extension educators
- Secondary educators
- Family and consumer sciences professionals in other practice settings
- Individuals who are entering FCS roles via other professions

Order Today!

INTRODUCTORY PRICING
$39.95 Members/Bookstores
$49.95 Nonmembers

[www.aafcs.org/
resources/store.asp](http://www.aafcs.org/resources/store.asp)