

BOX WORLD BRIEFING

NEWS ROUND-UP

Maersk aims to boost market share as unit costs hit record low

P04

Boxship owners 'unlikely' to opt for consolidation

P05

Pressure off as CMA CGM seeks buyers for APL terminals

P06

IRISL revives Europe service and expands Asia services

P07

TOP 25

THE POWER LIST

Containerisation International's annual review of the movers and shakers in the sector sets out the case for the top 25 most influential people, families and companies in box shipping

P08

NEW TECHNOLOGIES

PROJECT MAERSK SWINGS INTO ACTION

Digitalisation at the centre of Danish group's drive to transform container transport into a state-of-the-art industry, with the Hamburg Süd takeover providing added scale to achieve its aims, writes Janet Porter

P22

NEW TECHNOLOGIES

MAERSK-ALIBABA TIE-UP NO THREAT TO FORWARDERS

Container shipment booking trial with world's largest e-commerce platform not intended to sideline freight agents, writes Mike King

P25

NEW TECHNOLOGIES

FORWARDERS FACE SIGNIFICANT CHANGE FROM E-BUSINESS

Drewry report highlights 'wide and varied threats and opportunities' as innovative online platforms alter the way companies buy international shipping services, writes Will Waters

P26

NEW TECHNOLOGIES

DISRUPTIVE MANUFACTURING

Supply chain experts differ over the extent to which innovations will alter logistics and freight flows, despite indications it will drive some near-shoring, writes Stuart Todd

P27

NEW TECHNOLOGIES

E-BENEFITS OF BILLS OF LADING

The invention of paper nearly 2,000 years ago was a revolution for traders: now a new technology advance is underway, writes guest columnist Ian Kerr

P28

NEW TECHNOLOGIES

31

FIVE STEPS TO DIGITAL SUCCESS IN SHIPPING

Taking shipping online is no mean feat, but Boston Consulting Group has spelled out the steps to take and pitfalls to avoid for successful implementation, writes James Baker

P29

PORTS AND LOGISTICS

CONTSHIP EYES CONTINENTAL CARGO

Terminal operator raises Italy's case as an alternative southern gateway and is looking to the government for a helping hand, writes Linton Nightingale

P31

PORTS AND LOGISTICS

SPANISH PORTS UNDER THREAT

Pressure mounts on the government to implement reforms and address a monopolised labour system that risks driving transshipment traffic away from Spain's ports, writes Linton Nightingale

P34

BETWEEN THE LINES

TRANSPACIFIC TRANSFORMATIONS

The transpacific service networks of the future shipping line alliances will shake up the Asia-US trades, writes SeatIntel chief executive Alan Murphy

P38

+

-

←

→

DATA HUB

FREIGHT RATES

Market could soon come under downward pressure if capacity cuts do not address the demand shortfall post-Chinese New Year, writes Linton Nightingale

P41

DATA HUB

CHARTER RATES

Demolition levels hit new heights last year, but will have to double to save what promises to be a thoroughly depressed market in 2017, writes Linton Nightingale

P43

DATA HUB

LOAD FACTORS

Transpacific load factors end year on a high, but fortunes could soon change as competition on the trade intensifies, reports Linton Nightingale

P45

DATA HUB

WORLD FLEET UPDATE

Scrapping needs to maintain its pace to absorb large amount of capacity due in the next two years, writes James Baker

P47

DATA HUB

TRADE STATISTICS

Global trade is expected to have grown by 1.6% in 2016 but capacity is projected to have risen by 3%, according to trade data available in mid-January, writes MDS Transmodal

P50