

| FEATURES |

A Rare Success against Alzheimer's

By Miia Kivipelto and Krister Håkansson

Shredded Stars Offer New View of Supermassive Black Holes

By S. Bradley Cenko and Neil Gehrels

Microbes with Rewired DNA Turn into Patient-Saving Drugs

By Michael Waldholz

Unnatural Responsibilities

By Kevin M. Esvelt

Fishes from Toxic Springs Reveal Evolution at the Limits

By Rüdiger Riesch and Martin Plath

Why Social Media Became the Perfect Incubator for Hoaxes and Misinformation

Scientists Struggle to Determine Risky Levels of PFCs in Drinking Water

Time to Worry about Anthrax Again

| ONLINE EXCLUSIVES |

Why Old-Fashioned Computer Manuals and Books Are Still Needed

By David Pogue

Before America Joined the Great War

By Dan Schlenoff