Features

P18 Medical and health

Telemedicine's impressive claims are examined and its benefits and cost effectiveness put under scrutiny; how keeping illness quiet for fear of losing their jobs puts seafarers at risk; the help needed for traumatised survivors of pirate attacks

P24 Offshore safety

Azimuth pods may improve vessel manoeuvrability in and out of port, but tugs are certainly not redundant; simulation lets tug crews practice difficult offshore tows and prepares them in case things go wrong

P28 Training and education

Digitised vessels' growing need for IT experts presents a convincing argument for hiring a modern successor of the radio officer; a BIMCO/Fairplay survey reveals the need for better training to prevent cyber attacks
