

1. Guest Editorial
Special issue – coastal dune slack hydro-ecology
Charlie Stratford, Paul RooneyPages 573-576
2. OriginalPaper
Observations and analytical modeling of freshwater and rainwater lenses in coastal dune systems
Pieter J. StuyfzandPages 577-593
3. OriginalPaper
Modelling small groundwater systems: experiences from the Braunton Burrows and Ainsdale coastal dune systems, UK
Corinna Abesser, Derek Clarke, Andrew G. Hughes...Pages 595-614
4. OriginalPaper
A conceptual snapshot of a big coastal dune aquifer: Magilligan, Northern Ireland
N. S. Robins, P. WilsonPages 615-621
5. OriginalPaper
Ecohydrological studies of dune slack vegetation at Kenfig dunes, South Wales, UK
P. S. Jones, G. Farr, R. Low, J. R. EtheringtonPages 623-630
6. OriginalPaper
Window of opportunity of Liparis loeselii populations during vegetation succession on the Wadden Sea islands
Ab Grootjans, Rohani Shahrudin, Annelies van de Craats...Pages 631-641
7. OriginalPaper
The development and application of remote sensing to monitor sand dune habitats
JM Brownett, RS MillsPages 643-656
8. OriginalPaper
From overexploitation to sustainable use, an overview of 160 years of water extraction in the Amsterdam dunes, the Netherlands
L. H. W. T. Geelen, P. T. W. J. Kamps, T. N. OlsthoornPages 657-668
9. OriginalPaper
Merthyr Mawr: a case study for the assessment of nitrate at humid dunes in England and Wales
M. I. Whiteman, G. Farr, P. S. Jones, J. Schutten...Pages 669-684

10. OriginalPaper

Evolution of a sediment-starved, over-stabilised dunefield: Kenfig Burrows, South Wales, UK

K. Pye, S. J. BlottPages 685-717